"The World and a Woman."
No play of recent date has so graphically depicted the lengths to which a vain and beautiful woman will sometimes go to gratify an inordinate ambition to scale the pinnacles of glory, as does "The World and a Woman," Joseph Byron Tolson's extraordinary play of real life, which has been magnificently mounted by Earl Burgess and which will be presented at the Broadway theater on Saturday, Sept. 11, matinee and night. Its wonderful plot, almost devilish in its ingenuity, yet adhering with patient fidelity to fact and plausibility, projects a character of this description and makes her so real that the spectator at the close of "The World and a Woman" will find it difficult to believe that he has witnessed an exposition from life, rather than the presentation of artistic togethery. Not a word of the author has made their character thoroughly solid. As in the case with all of the interpretations, there are lights and shades so drawn, compared and contrasted, as to keep always within the potential. There is plenty of comedy and pathos in the play, and it is a woman. Seats on sale at the box office, Vaudeville house, and Block, Picher & Co's Thursday, Sept. 9, at 2 o'clock.

BROADWAY THEATER.
David Belasco's "The Girl of the Golden West."
With the master touch of David Belasco in every detail "The Girl of the Golden West" will be seen at Broadway theater on Friday, Sept. 10. David Belasco, a name synonymous with perfection in dramatic art, has in the offering given a picture of a land almost unknown to the dramatist. In New York, where "The Girl of the Golden West" ran for two years, and in the few other cities that have thus far witnessed the play, it scored a veritable triumph, and success of the most substantial character has once more perched on Mr. Belasco's banner. The play, brilliant and representative audience ever assembled in the Capital City, comprising the diplomatic corps, foreign legations and cabinet members, together with the army and navy, the golden "Golden West" was a triumph such as has been accorded few plays on record in that city.

BREED THEATER.
The Hand of Justice, Feature Motion Picture.
Another wonderful motion picture over 1,000 feet long is billed for the Breed theater for the remainder of the week and appears under the interesting title of The Hand of Justice. An old man possessing a large estate is aware of the fact that his days are numbered, and he calls a banker friend and hands over to him funds to be kept until his demise. The banker, being a miser, neglects, except a servant passing through the room at the time, it was an easy task for the wily banker to appropriate the money to his own use. When the heiress reads a note left by her father, to be read after his death, she immediately starts out for the banker's, only to be rewarded with a large sum which the banker declared to be all of the estate. The efforts that are made by the heiress to recover the whole amount are as varied as they are numerous and ends by a society to which the father's servant belonged, and who saw the transaction, kidnapping the banker's daughter and holding her for ransom, which very soon brings the affair to an immediate settlement.

South Norwalk's New Charter.
At the referendum vote of the city of South Norwalk the new city charter which was ratified by the last legislature was adopted by a vote of 324 to 75. It puts within the possession of the people the right to vote for electrical commissioners, which subject is of great importance to South Norwalk, as the city owns its own electrical plants, the electrical commissioners having heretofore been appointed by the council. At the present time there is a strong controversy among the commissioners over the retention of A. E. Winchester, secretary of the municipal lighting plant. The

LEDYARD AWARDS.
Reynolds Prizes Distributed at Meeting of Congregational Sunday School.

Professor Pearson of Oberlin, formerly of Carleton college, came to Ledyard at the morning service Sunday and gave his illustrated lecture to a good sized audience in the evening. At the morning communion service four new members were received. In the newly decorated auditorium and vestry there was a pleasant gathering Monday evening at the awarding of annual prizes to those members of the Sunday school most faithful in their attendance. For several years Edwin Reynolds of Providence, who retains his ancestral home in Ledyard for a summer residence, has given $500 in prizes to the Sunday school, and will continue to do so another year. The exercises of the evening were in charge of Mr. John Gray. The first address was by the pastor, Rev. W. P. White, who gave a brief history of religious instruction and Bible study in the Sunday school, dwelling upon catechetical schools and the rise of the modern Sunday school, and the opposition it met even here in Connecticut. He dwelt upon the great progress made in Sunday school and the present character of lesson helps and aids to Bible study, indicating that the best thought of man is centered around the Bible and its central teachings. He congratulated the Sunday school of Ledyard for its growth and progress, and gave a good friend as Mr. Reynolds, who gave of his money and presence whenever in Ledyard, attributing much of the growth and progress of a good mother and what he learned in the Sabbath school when a boy. He made plain to the school that the purpose of the prizes was to stimulate the pupils to come where they would be most interested and dig out for themselves those great truths that have ever made strong sterling characters, and without which they could not go astray. He closed by saying that pastor and giver would expect every winner to be loyal to church and Sunday school and to make a success of living this splendid life in the best country in the world, and in the best age of the world.

Mr. Reynolds Speaks.
Mr. Reynolds followed with a most helpful address of his usual happy way. He emphasized the reasons that led him to offer these prizes: "The necessity of all having thorough moral and religious instruction to meet the increasing demands for men of character and education. 'We look to you to fill our places with credit and honor. No one ever heard of an ignorant person occupying a high place of trust. The influences that surround you here are of the highest order and your associations are with the best people of our town. Where do you spend your Sundays? Is a question men are more and more asking. Who will win nine times out of a hundred? It will be the Sunday school boy.' He went on to show the opportunities of the well trained young men and women in this country today, where wealth has increased from $1,000,000,000 in 1870 to approximately $12,000,000,000 today and where have originated some of the great modern inventions that are calling for more expert young people vigorous enough to live long enough to do the greater work. He was very optimistic as to the future opportunities for just such young people as Ledyard is producing, and he of the present generation will watch with deep interest your future movements. Your life success in life is not measured by the amount of money you will have, but by the amount of good you will do for others." The prizes were awarded as follows: First, Edmund White, Leslie Gray, Philip Brown, Amos Avery. Second, Enos Gray, Fred Gray, Charles Gray, Harold White, Irving White. Third, Edward Sheldon, Archie Holbrook, Lewis Kizer. Fourth, Helen White. Fifth, Ray Holdridge, Grace Brown. The aggregate attendance for the year was 5,783, with general average of 75, double that of the previous year.

ONLY ONE.
The Record in Norwich is a Unique One.
If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ail and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know—Doan's Kidney Pills. Relieve quickly—cure permanently. Norwich citizens testify to this. Here is a case: Mrs. Margaret Cox, living at 191 W. Main St., Norwich, Conn., says: "My son procured Doan's Kidney Pills for me from N. D. Sevin & Son's drug store, and their use proved of great benefit. I had felt miserable for some time on account of disordered kidneys. Morning when I would arise I would feel so painful that I could scarcely straighten and at time I could not do any work. Troubles with the point as I heard of them, their action being too frequent and otherwise unnatural. I was subject to dizzy spells, and more than once came near falling on this account. My face bloated and there was a perceptible swelling of my feet and hands. I tried various remedies and doctored a great deal but nothing gave me any relief. I was about discouraged when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills but I had only a few doses when I began to feel better and had reason to place great confidence in them. The use of one box put an end to the lameness in my back, restoring my health and enabling me to go to work. It gives me pleasure to tell others of the curative powers of this excellent remedy." For sale by all dealers. Price per bottle, 25 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
